Prior to this, Anil Chadha was responsible for the growth and expansion across both the WelcomHotel and Luxury Collection brands: Welcomhotel Amritsar, Welcomhotel Chail, Welcomhotel Shimla, WelcomHotel Coimbatore and WelcomHotel Kences Palm Beach, Mahabalipuram opened under his aegis, as did the Luxury Collection hotel ITC Kohenur in Hyderabad. Anil's astute sense at predicting trends has propelled ITC Hotels cuisine much ahead of competition. His passion for Food and Beverage fructified in creating new brands for the chain and an award-winning array of restaurants in the South, with Avartana being the crowning glory- the Southern Indian restaurant featuring reimaged, inventive cuisine is testimony to Anil's keen focus on changing customer preferences and the evolving international palate. This acumen holds him in good stead to lead the evolution of more such new food and beverage brands for the chain.

A career spanning over two decades at ITC Hotels, Anil Chadha is a home grown product of ITC's Hotel Management Institute. He epitomizes the company's commitment to human resources that nurture young talent for senior management positions. The journey from New Delhi, Agra, Kolkata, Bengaluru to Chennai, has facilitated Anil's deeper understanding of business dynamics in micro-markets within India. "Our experience should sharpen our instincts to predict industry trends and create superior offerings for guests while continuing to keep our focus on planet positive experiences".

Anil Chadha's achievements are manifest in the numerous recognitions within the industry including - Hotelier of the Year by BBC Food Awards-2018 and Hotelier of the Year by Vir Sanghvi in Hindustan Times Brunch magazine.
